A former thief uses his skills for Scotland Yard. David Jason I think was gr8 as Dez in the first show (pilot episode). then he brought out a second series featuring 3 new episodes which I thought was brilliant. just days before ITV advertised the new season I was talking about the show to my family, and we all said we wanted him to star in a new series again. I want him to come back in a brand new series of diamond geezer and bring back the father and son bond storyline and partnership and incorporate it into the new series, however maybe he is getting a bit old now to do the running around (as he did in the previous episodes). Maybe he will surprise us, and bring out a new series. We don't know? Diamond Geezer was not the best TV series I have ever seen, but when it was on I found it very entertaining. I agree it did get goofy and predictable in places, but I liked the fun twists to the stories and the dialogue did have its funny moments. The photography and production values were very good, and the music was pleasant. The direction was above decent as well and I had little problem with the acting too. I like David Jason very much, I am very fond of A Touch of Frost, The Darling Buds of May and Only Fools and Horses, and I enjoyed his work here. Overall, I liked it, while not outstanding by all means it was fun enough. 8/10 Bethany Cox 646f9e108c
